CHALLENGES OF EXPANSION

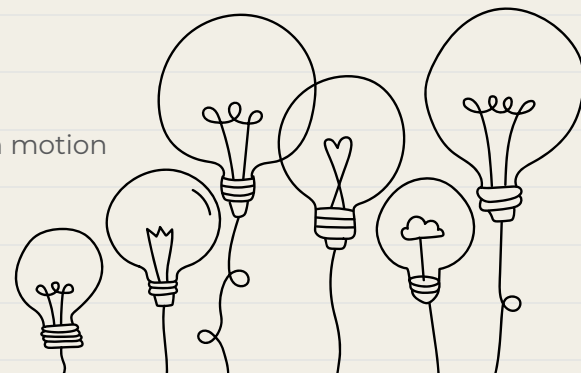

There are four main challenges businesses face with expanding a business:

1. Money – not having enough funding

4. Resources – not having enough hands to juggle competing priorities

To get yourself thinking about the impediments you will need to overcome to scale up your business:

2. How can you overcome this inhibitor?
3. What is one thing you can do right now to set the wheels in motion on your path to business growth?

While it's prudent to consider the obstacles in your way, what about the opportunities you are staring down the barrel of?

To get yourself excited about your next phase of growth, brainstorm:

1. What your competitors are doing differently that you could tap into to
2. New services your clients are craving that you could offer
3. Connections you might have that could foster growth opportunities
4. Your wildest aspirations for business expansion that you've been keeping up your sleeve
